Observation & suggestions.

- The Letter Sphere Chain Necklace 20in (Gold) product page was second to only the homepage in terms of pages people had landed on. This seemed to have a very positive effect on the sales as it was the top selling item. A similar effect can also be observed on the Letter Sphere Chain & Birthstone Pendant Set (Gold)
- All Jewellery seems to be the most viewed product group but also the most exited page, showing that customers are not finding what they want their. It may be worth seeing how customers can be guided into making a more specific product group choice to aid in a conversion.
- Customers using the search feature are 10% likely to purchase an item. It may be worth making the search tool more prominent to up the engagement with it.
- Although would need confirming as it was tagged incorrectly so ended up in 'Other', paid social seemed to do incredibly well for revenue and the campaign should be reviewed to see why it was so successful.

AL ABBOTT LYON Mobile - {Page} - Scroll percentage.

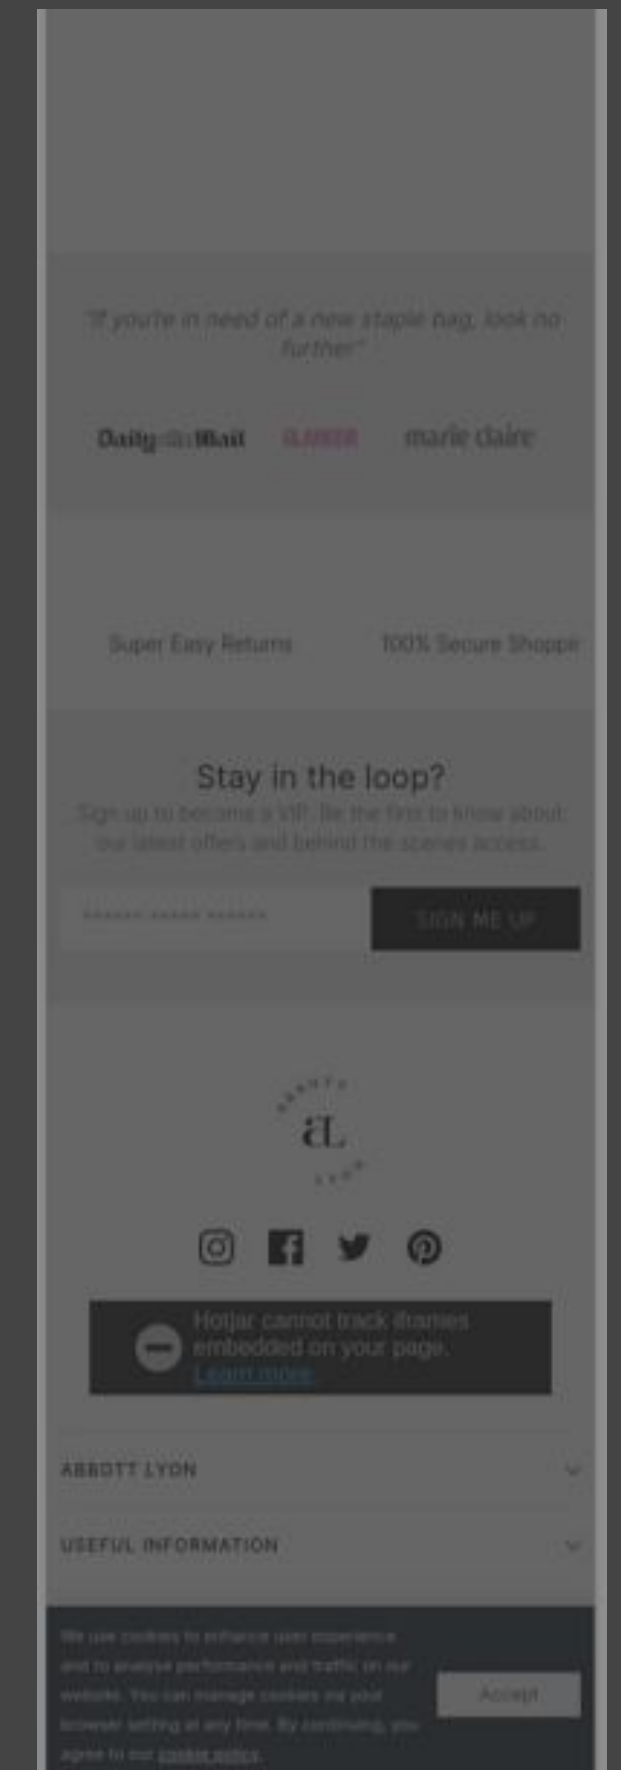

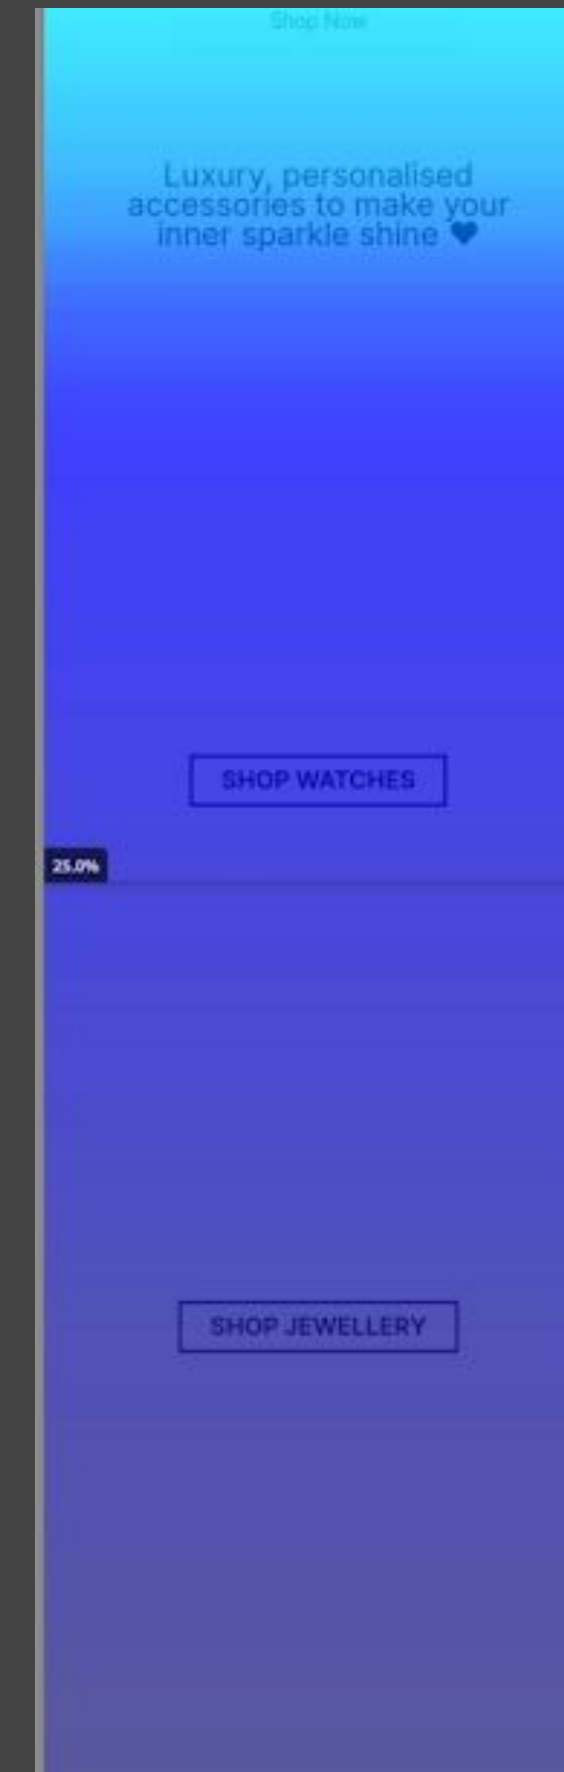

Created by
Paria Kiashemshaki

Observation.

- Customers are acting as expecting, with engagement cooling around the average fold.
- Less customers are reaching the trending section.
- Biggest drop off happens after the trending items.

Suggestions.

- The scrollmap shows the effectiveness of the top of the page. As it appears customers are finding what they need.
- If a personalisation element was added, it should be before the Trending section, as the page starts to get cold here.

AL ABBOTT LYON Desktop - {Page} - Scroll percentage.

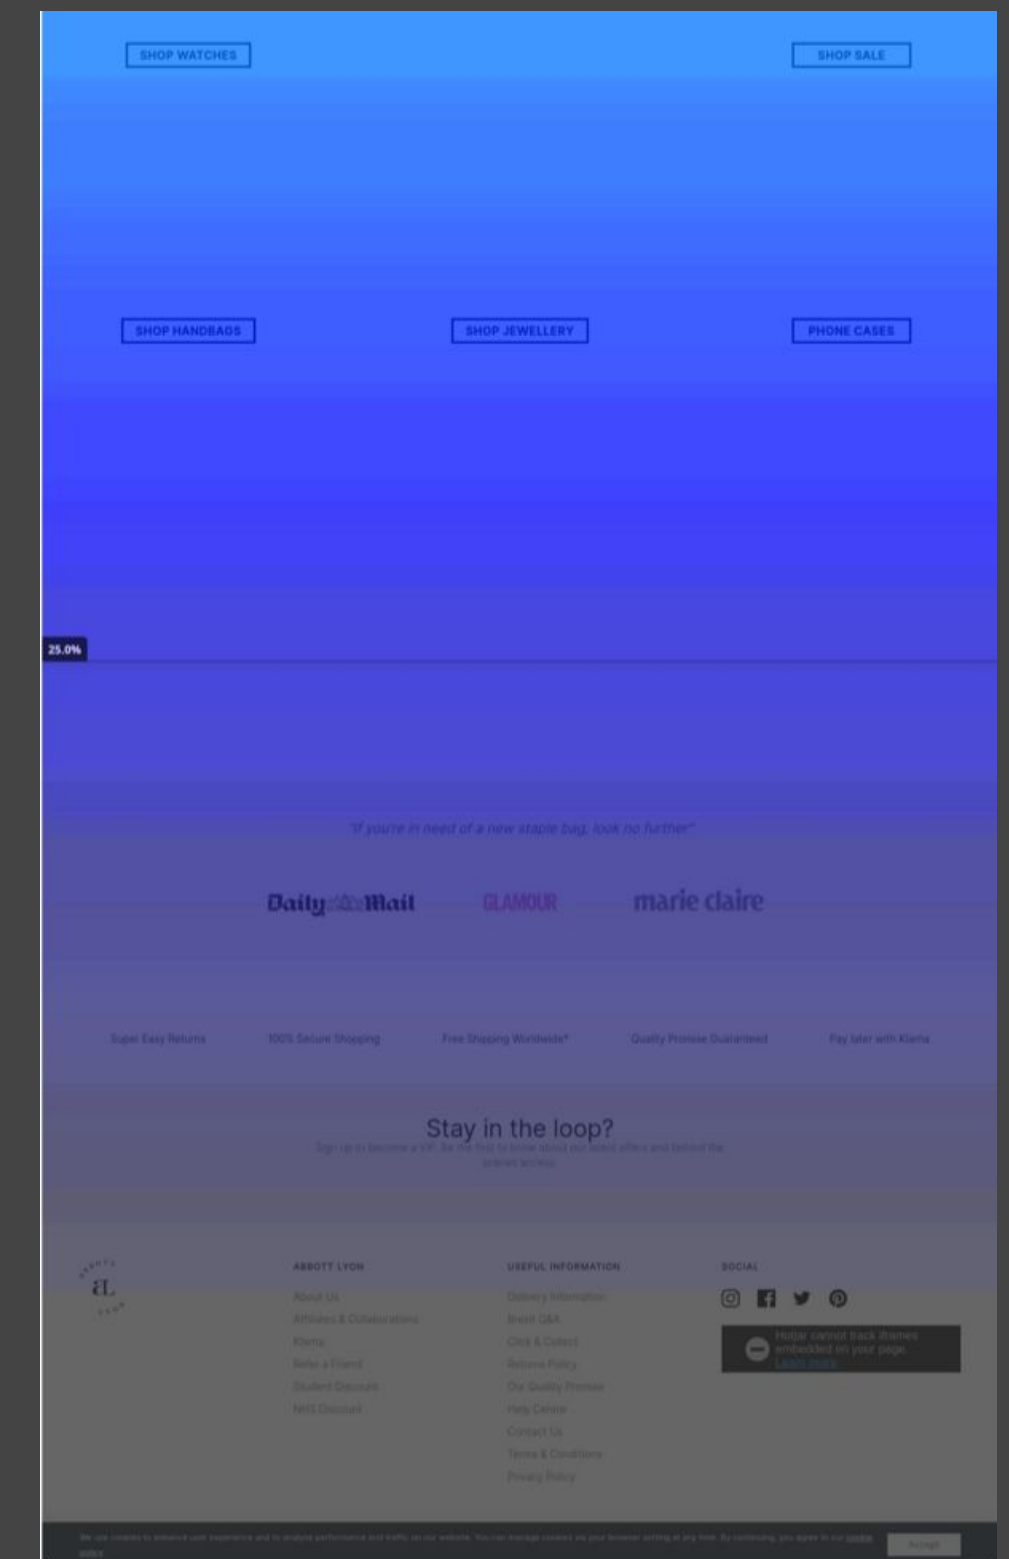

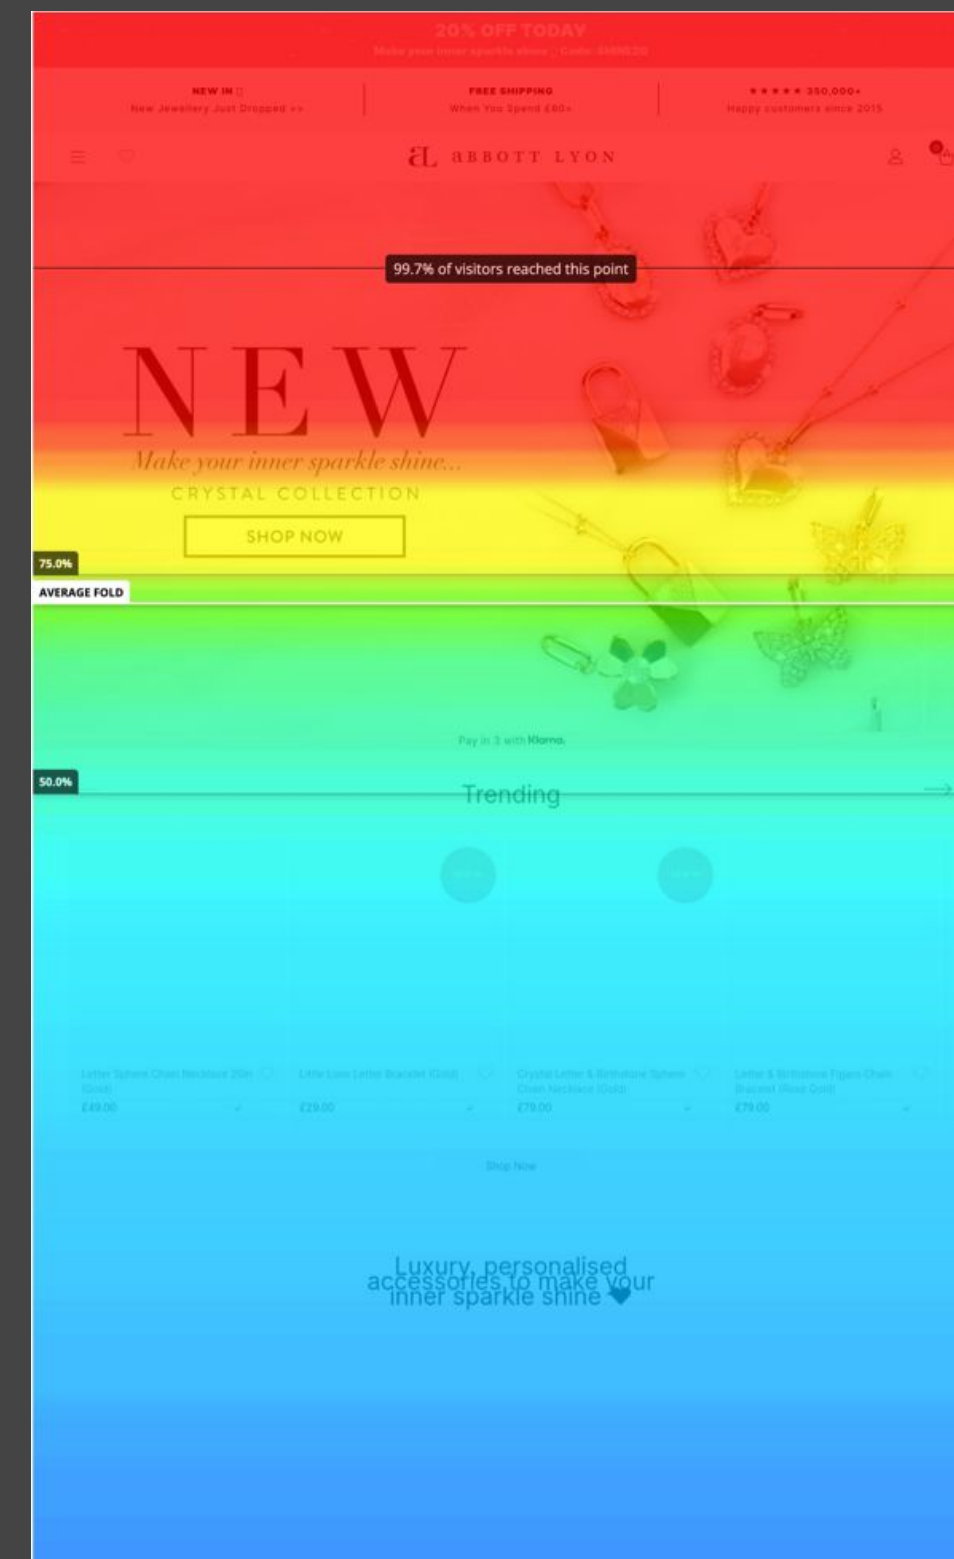

Created by
Paria Kiashemshaki

Observation.

- Very similar attitude to that of the mobile experience.
- Like mobile we see the drop off happen after the Trending items, about average.
- Again Desktop is highlighting the importance of the top hero image and 'Shop Now' CTA.

Suggestions.

→ Same comments as mobile.

Observations.

- Majority of clicks are to the navigation.
- No engagement to the 'Shop Now' CTA.
- A fair proportion of customers click through the Trending items carousel.
- Other CTA's have very limited engagement.

Suggestions.

- The fact customers are going straight to the navigation highlights the fact they know the section of the site they want to find. The next slide of this document highlights that customers are most interested in "Best Sellers" so we could aid their journey to this page with a CTA near the top.
- A personalised experience near the top could also aid a customers journey to their desired product.

Observations.

- Best sellers is the most tapped option in the dropdown.
- Customers are scrolling and reaching the 'Load More' CTA at the bottom of the page.

Suggestions.

- Although an option to filter by Best Sellers is available on the collection pages. It may be worth making this more visible, as it appears to be what the customers are looking for the most.

Observations.

- Image selection arrow is very well engaged with.
- Play video isn't engaged with much.
- Read more is well engaged.
- Customers aren't using the go to basket icon at the top.
- Features under 'Add to Bag' have limited interaction.

Suggestions.

- Video CTA could be removed as it's under engaged with so may just be taking up real estate over the images. A product video could instead be added to the gallery.
- Could be some benefit to adding a 'Add to bag' CTA further up the page, possibly where the current film CTA sits. This could deep link a customer to the personalisation options on the page.

Observations.

- Image selection arrow is very well engaged with.
- Play video isn't engaged with much.
- Read more is well engaged.
- Customers aren't using the go to basket icon at the top.
- Features under 'Add to Bag' have limited interaction.

Observations.

- ‘Sign Up’ button gets a lot of engagement.

Suggestions.

→ Page seems to be doing it's job. May be worth explaining what the different sign-ups mean, if anything.

Best practices and shared content across competitors:

- Top of Page delivery banner
- Klarna Banner
- Visible Search Bar
- Visible Navigation (Desktop)
- Trending item carousel
- Reviews
- Blog
- Live Chat
- Email Sign-up
- Social Feed

At least 4 (Worth considering):

- Social Feed
- Visible Search Bar
- Visible Navigation (Desktop)
- Best Sellers

What could give you an edge on your competitors?:

- Customers who use your search bar are 10% likely to convert. It would be beneficial to make the search visible on page load. This could be as simple as an icon.
- A visible navigation on desktop would help those using the site see what products are available on page load. Rather than clicking through the burger menu

Best practices and shared content across competitors:

- On scroll image changes
- Trending Now labels
- On sale labels
- Filter
- Sort-by
- Colour Picker
- Add item to wishlist
- Add item straight to bag
- Reviews
- Product per page

At least 3 (Worth considering):

- On scroll image changes
- To Wishlist
- To basket

What could give you an edge on your competitors?:

- You have most of the features listed here. However a quick add to either the basket or wishlist would help customers get the product faster.

- Add more i.e gift bags, warranties
- Send as gift
- Item Description
- Technical Details
- Shipping and delivery information
- Recommendations

At least 1 (Worth considering):

- Send as gift

What could give you an edge on your competitors?:

- Like collections you hold most of the features that the competitors have. Your page construction is similar to Daisy and Pdpaola. One recommendation would be follow their construction and move the description below ‘Add to Bag.’ This would helpgive the CTA more visibility.

Thoughts

- This example is more category focused
- A lot of competitors such as Pandora, rosefield, swarovski do something similar.
- Users can easily find the personalise options.

Going forward

- We can user test these structures to see which structure users find easier to find what they are looking for.

It's important to plan out and ensure the navigation between these flows is seamless.
